

Champs sur
Marne

Bradley
Stoke

Friday 11th June 2010
@
Bradley Stoke
Community
School
7:00—9:00pm
Free

For further information please contact
Christopher Lee
on 07818005970

Wine and Cheese Twinning Party

The chateau of Champs-Sur-Marne

Did you know Champs-Sur-Marne in France is twinned with Bradley Stoke?

At the end of next week representatives of the French town of Champs-Sur-Marne will be visiting Bradley Stoke . The Mayor of Bradley Stoke, Ben Walker will be attending along with other members from South Gloucestershire Council and Bradley Stoke Town Council. So why not take this opportunity to meet some of our European and local neighbours to enjoy great conversation and food and wine together?

Champs-Sur-Marne is a town with an ancient centre but it also includes very diverse architecture. In the Cite Descartes you can admire buildings created by famous and contemporary architects . The city has particularly changed since 1970, particularly since the State has launched a huge program to establish “new towns” (villes nouvelles) around Paris. Champs-Sur-Marne was one of 26 communities enclosed in an urban plan, named Marne-la-Vallee. The city is situated halfway between Paris and Eurodisney; you just need to take the rapid transit rail system in the Paris region. It’s not just a suburb of Paris or a dormitory town!

Centre Town